MATIST EVER PUBLISHED. 2 vols., crown 8vo., 1.334 pages, steel portraits. Price $5.
The frequent publication of Dr. Franklin's Autobiograph: has deterred any writer hitherto from attempting a complete and thorough biography of this truly great and distinguished man. No one ever left to the world a record more rich in the requisite material for a most entertaining and instructive history of his life, and the wonder is that so many years should have conpeed before its presentation to us in a co ystematic form.

The story of Franklin's career, as it presents itself to the in vestigations of another, has remained to this day untold; and one who would know it in all its fullness of interest and beauty one who wou'd see Franklin as others saw him, which is been regarded only in the light of "meterial." Autobiography is one of the most interesting and valuable kinds of composinitted "all facts and transactions that may not have a tendency to benefit the young reader."
